Vocab Activities:

- Personal Museum: Label as many items as possible in your house in French
- Scavenger Hunt: Choose a vocab set (or pick one word for each letter of the alphabet), and try to find an each of the item and take a picture of it with your phone
- Allo, Allo: Change your phone settings to French for the day
- TV5Monde: Leveled activities based on authentic videos, listenings, short texts (different levels/vocabs available) <https://apprendre.tv5monde.com/fr> , or just watch a video from the French-speaking world <https://apprendre.tv5monde.com/fr/exercices/a1-debutant>
- Shopping Spree: You are in Galeries Lafayettes and have 500 euros to spend. Assemble a shopping cart (just don't check out!) <https://www.galerieslafayette.com/>

Netflix: For those who have access to Netflix, there are various French and French related shows out there, a quick Google search or Netflix search will give options (but be careful of ratings/content for random shows, Google if concerned)

- Recommended movies= The Little Prince (in English), The African Doctor (in French, French title= Bienvenue a Marly-Gomont), series= Chef's Table France, Nailed It! France (baking competition show)

A number of series that aren't "French" also have French language tracks and/or subtitles available, play with the settings, same with Disney+

Youtube: Episodes of "Extra" are available, just search "Extra episodes French," French 2 and 3 are familiar with it, it's an educationally produced "show" that uses the sitcom format of Friends, lots of repetition and visual cues for vocab

Episodes of “C’est Pas Sorcier” are available, they are around 24 minutes, science/history/nature series for kids from the early 2000s-2014, we’ve done sections on Edpuzzle (castles, Provence, les Gaulois, for example)

Episodes of “Le Meilleur Pâtissier Saison 8” ( The Best Baker Season 8) as well as other seasons are on Youtube (we did a clip of it with the crepes bretonnes section)

French Stories- Children’s stories /fables narrated in (slower) French, with French text and the ability to hit the translate button and switch text to English
